

DID THE MOUNTAINS TELL HIM STORIES?

JOHAN REINHARD
High-altitude archaeologist

Since college, his focus has been to explore, study and champion the relevance of historical periods in today's world. His name is Johan Reinhard. He's conducted field research from the Andes to the Himalayas. Studied the sacred beliefs and practices of numerous mountain cultures. Recovered the world's best-preserved mummies from the highest archeological sites on earth. And his finds have twice been selected among the world's top ten scientific discoveries of the year. 🌿 Dr. Johan Reinhard, high-altitude archaeologist and National Geographic explorer-in-residence, is one of Ford Motor Company's Heroes for the Planet. A program that's part of ongoing Ford Motor Company initiatives to underwrite and support efforts that make the world a better place. 🌿 To learn more about Dr. Reinhard and other Heroes for the Planet, just visit our website. You'll find fascinating information including links to his favorite websites. Around the globe, there are amazing individuals who've dedicated their lives to our planet.
